

Better Than That

music & lyrics by Kim Banffy

Don't y' think I know you better than that?

You've been acting strangely, & that's a fact.

I can see you struggle, I feel your pain.

Keep on looking outward to remain sane.

Don't y' think I know you better than that?

Step out of the darkness, 'think you might find

Some degree of struggle just in your mind.

You can change the game plan, just take a stand.

Let somebody help you, give you a hand.

Don't y' think I know you better than that?

If you take the first step maybe you'll find

Complicated things begin to unwind.

☆ One foot on the ladder - that's all it takes -

And you're gonna see the difference it makes.

Don't y' think I know you better than that?