music & lyrics by Kim Banffy

The wind said to me 'Come & dance on the shore', so I went with him.
And we danced by the sea and the feeling was free as the birds
That were flying & dipping above & all I could feel was the love
That connected us all, and I never wanted to leave.

The wind said to me 'Come & sail on the sea', so I went with him.
And he pushed me along as I joined in his song with the waves.
And the rhythm was as sweet as a sigh, and I never thought to ask why
I could still feel the love and I never wanted to leave.
In the forest, whispering high in the trees,
In the moonlight...listen and watch & you'll see.

The wind said to me 'Come & fly & be free', so I went with him.
And he said 'You will see if you just let it be and let go'.
So I kissed it goodbye and it flew
And I was relieved as I knew
I would still feel the love, and I never wanted to leave.
In the forest whispering high in the trees,
In the moonlight listen & watch and you'll see.
