

Patch ☆ Blue

music & lyrics by Kim Banffy

Hunkered over coffee in a corner of the shop,
Suddenly enlightened through a window in thought;
A patch of blue-fantastic view...
So few and far between
And such relief...a glimpse
☆ of endless horizons,
Whilst thoughts take a nap...dream on, ceaseless chatter.
Sleep will do us good.

Ah, you're back, there is no need,
You live on in forget-me-nots...
Too many stitches in time.
All stitched up to crippled,
In stippled, dappled light;
A thousand brush-strokes of a sighing shore,
A constant roar.
Ceaseless chatter doesn't matter,
Drowned in wind and waves...
Release the slaves!
